To Collusia Employees Involved in Design I0-CC

It has been brought to my attention that two team members involved in Design I0-CC have provided information about the project to unauthorized individuals. These team members have been secured and removed.

Effective immediately, Darius Jones is appointed as the sole coordinator of the Design I0-CC project.

As of today, these team members are being diverted to Project Chaotical. This new project is our highest priority and requires the highest level of secrecy. Violation of the secrecy protocol will not be tolerated.
