

ARCHIVE

REPORT

TRASH

Tag As ▼

INBOX

Read:

Subject: Design 10-CC

Darius Jones <djones@collusia.com>

September 1

To Lisa Solein (see more ▼)

Dear Ms. Solein,

I just stepped out of the first team meeting for Design 10-CC. To be blunt: there's too much wasted effort in this group. Would you consider reducing the team to me alone?

I know that I could develop Design 10-CC to your satisfaction. I have the expertise to handle this project on my own - within the budget and the deadline.

Also, I've heard about the upcoming opening for the position of Vice President of Research and Development. Please allow me to prove that I would be an excellent choice.

Respectfully,
Darius Jones

Lisa Solein <lsolein@collusia.com>

September 1

To me (see more ▼)

Darius,

Your request to take charge of Design-CC comes at a better time than you could possibly imagine. Due to unforeseen circumstances, I've had to start our high-priority Project Chaotical ahead of schedule - and I have an immediate need for more engineers on that project.

Addison Grey has mentioned you as someone with experience in design. So I'm appointing you to continue Design 10-CC on your own. I expect you to complete this project with the upmost efficiency.

I'll issue a memo naming you the new coordinator of 10-CC and diverting all other staff to Project Chaotical.

Lisa Solein
CEO of Collusia

Not Yet Read:

Subject: Pulled from the team?

Luke Davis <ldavis@collusia.com>

September 10

To me (see more ▼)

Darius -

I have to say, I'm really shocked that I've been pulled from the Design 10-CC team. Now I'll be up to my ears in Project Chaotical for the next few months. Do you know anything about why that happened?

I'd hate to see all my research on wetsuit materials go to waste. I can forward the information to you any time - just say the word! But be quick about it: after tomorrow, I'm not supposed to communicate with you anymore.

- Luke

Subject: Questions about Wetsuit Project

Theresa Yan <tyan@collusia.com>

September 11

To me (see more ▼)

Hello Darius,

I just heard that you've been named the new coordinator for Design 10-CC. Congratulations, it's an exciting project! I'm disappointed that I have to leave it just as we were getting started, though.

At our group meeting, you were a strong supporter of using self-decoration as a camouflage technique. I think you might have been upset that we ended up choosing to go with disruptive coloration instead. I know your knowledge of biomimicry is deep, so I don't mean to step on your toes by saying this. But I still believe that disruptive coloration is the best method. You get the same level of camouflage but without all the bulk. Please consider staying with that technique.

All the best,
Theresa Yan

Subject: Rumor?

Theresa Yan <tyan@collusia.com>

November 1

To me (see more ▼)

Hello again Darius,

I just heard a rumor that TimeTilter maintenance workers drowned while wearing the self-ornamentation version of 10-CC. Very distressing news - is it true?

-Theresa